

A MESSAGE FROM MARK

Hi folks and thanks for coming to the show.

Tonight is no mere comedy show, oh no, tonight we will create a bold new vision of the world from the recesses of our collective knowledge and creativity (suppress maniacal chuckle, clamp Dr Strangelove arm jolt, smile benignly).

I am trying to create a People's Manifesto and am looking for your help with this. It can not have escaped your notice that we are up a Creek called Shit, economically, politically, socially... er ...totally. So where are the great ideas, theories and visions to help us in our hour of need? (Deep breath, lower voice, looks sincere) Within you my friends...

Each audience gets to come up with a policy, which I will include in the final manifesto and then campaign upon. So here is your chance to propose your policy or policies for the future. All I want is an idea that you think will improve our lives, it can be silly, serious, economic, plagiarised, original, bold, simple, complex, obvious or morbid.

Thanks, Mark

My policy/policies are:

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

My first name is:

A MESSAGE FROM MARK

Hi folks and thanks for coming to the show.

Tonight is no mere comedy show, oh no, tonight we will create a bold new vision of the world from the recesses of our collective knowledge and creativity (suppress maniacal chuckle, clamp Dr Strangelove arm jolt, smile benignly).

I am trying to create a People's Manifesto and am looking for your help with this. It can not have escaped your notice that we are up a Creek called Shit, economically, politically, socially... er ...totally. So where are the great ideas, theories and visions to help us in our hour of need? (Deep breath, lower voice, look sincere) Within you my friends...

Each audience gets to come up with a policy, which I will include in the final manifesto and then campaign upon. So here is your chance to propose your policy or policies for the future. All I want is an idea that you think will improve our lives, it can be silly, serious, economic, plagiarised, original, bold, simple, complex, obvious or morbid.

Thanks, Mark

My policy/policies are:

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

My first name is: